SALTILLO, Mex., Nov. 28.—Hon. Jose Pantoja, the jefe politico, or mayor, of the town of Arzoaga, about forty miles southeast of this city, arrived here Sunday morning after a long hard ride across the rough mountains.
He relates a thrilling story of an accident that occurred at Arzoaga Saturday, and the object of his visit was to secure medical aid for the unfortunate victims.
The matador, or slayer of the bulls, was to be Manuel Lopez, a daring Mexican vaquero. At 4 p. m. there were about 2,500 spectators gathered in the amphitheater around the arena.
The banderillos and matador took their places and the bulls were turned loose. The crowd was furnished with plenty of amusement by the activity of the banderillos in keeping out of the way of the enraged animals. After working up the bulls into a state of great frenzy, Lopez got in to kill the first bull.
